FCCJ JOINS GLOBAL PRESS FREEDOM ORGANIZATIONS TO ASK FOR THE IMMEDIATE RELEASE OF FILIPINA JOURNALIST FRENCHIE MAE CUMPIO

Open letter from global journalists, press clubs and media organizations

Dear President Marcos,

The recent conviction of community journalist Frenchie Mae Cumpio of terrorism financing charges came as a shock to journalists and media freedom advocates. The court relying solely on implausible testimonies from prosecution witnesses has made the decision unbelievable and revolting.

On February 7, Cumpio and her companion, lay worker Marielle Domequil, will mark their sixth year in detention since their arrest in February 2020. UN Special Rapporteur on Freedom of Expression and Opinion Irene Khan pointed out in a statement that the arrest and criminal charges, following months of 'red-tagging', surveillance, intimidation and harassment, appear to have been filed in retaliation for [Cumpio's] work as a journalist. More than 250 journalists and representatives of media organizations from 35 countries all over the world wrote in September 2025 calling on your administration to stop the persecution of Cumpio and release her immediately.

It is gravely alarming that Cumpio has been publicly labeled as a communist and terrorist by no less than the Department of Justice (DOJ) following the court decision. The labeling puts her life in danger and shows how the administration attempts to isolate Cumpio and justify her continuous detention. It is also concerning that terrorism-related charges are used systematically by the Filipino authorities to prosecute journalists and human rights defenders. This is a deeply troubling trend that should not exist in a democracy, and it brings the Philippines dangerously close to its authoritarian neighbors.

Cumpio's case is emblematic of the multiple risks faced by Filipino journalists. Elsewhere in the world, there are other Frenchie Mae Cumpios languishing in jail for telling the truth.

We, journalist groups, press freedom watchdogs and human rights organizations, reiterate our support for Cumpio and urge your Excellency to right the wrong. With the Philippines chairing the ASEAN this year, it is imperative that your administration walk the talk. The reversal of the unjust conviction of Cumpio is necessary to prove the Philippines' commitment to press freedom, free expression and democracy.
